

St. Matthew's Publishing Corporation is a pioneer in the educational publishing industry for preschool and elementary school books in the Philippines. Our team joins the talents of distinguished academicians who create effective content for our materials and young-blood who strive to innovate and offer fresh perspectives on the delivery of education.

For more than 25 years, St. Matthew's Publishing Corporation has served more than 10,000 educational institutions nationwide as a true partner of educators and parents in nurturing young minds.

St. Matthew's Publishing Corporation manages three publishing imprints. It publishes K-12-aligned books for preschool and elementary school students under The K-12 Way imprint; educational books with special topics through Tala Books, and children's books under Kahel Press.

Kahel Press combines the passion of red and the happiness of yellow. It offers stories with fresh perspectives on time-tested values, relevant issues and useful skills for children in today's world. Aside from story books, the imprint also carries Handy Books—handy guidebooks for kids that come in easy-to-carry sizes so kids can bring them anytime and anywhere as they explore their new hobbies.

Tala Books is where education makes a difference at every turn of the page.

The name of the imprint expresses its two Filipino origins which mean "star" (talá) and "to write" (talâ). Just as stars are symbols of hope, Tala Books is a platform for authors to write with hope and to pass on the same through the open pages of a book.

Hope is made tangible and real each time a child uses Tala Books. As bits and pieces of the dreams, hopes and experiences of socially-driven authors are handed down to its young audience, Tala Books builds up relevant life skills to empower children.

Tala Books is a specialty educational publishing imprint of St. Matthew's Publishing Corporation. It aims to publish educational books that are geared towards a practical approach in achieving social change.

We're looking for writers for Tala Books! For inquiries and proposals, send an email to talabooks@stmatthews.ph

Level: Universal Kindergarten
ISBN: 978-971-625-446-4

To give impact to the indomitable commitment of the Department of Education to overcome the learning crises we are now facing due to Covid-19 pandemic, St. Matthew's Publishing Corporation, quick to its action, developed a quality learning material that is responsive to the needs of the time.

The worktext, "BUHAY Kindergarten Most Essential Learning Competencies (MELCs) Book 1 and Book 2," which were based on the K-to-12 Most Essential Learning Competencies (MELCs), released by the said department last school year, provides creative learning activities that truly develop the learner's skills, knowledge and attitude in a way that is enjoyable via songs, poems, dialogs, stories and current issues that are within the child's experiences.

These learning activities give the learners the opportunity to grow and expand their love for learning. Likewise, the group learning activity, as one of the child's learning experiences, develops their ability to get along with others, an ability that one needs as he/she grows older to face the world. Furthermore, the authors believe that happy children learn better, hence, play is an integral part of their learning activities.

It is hoped that this tangible response of St. Matthew's Publishing Corporation to quality learning in this critical period addresses the needs and wants of the learners we serve, specifically the kindergarten children.
